Meet Linan, a young girl — or female Luminat, which is a more accurate description — living an ordinary life in the extraterrestrial planet of Umicox. She has always wanted to be a detective and her dream comes true when she joins her new school, Aunewr Academy in the city of Drutt, and meets two of the most suspicious and investigative personalities: Omaira and Yavina, who eventually become her best friends. It all starts with a few incidents in school, but solving these minor mysteries give Linan and her friends enough confidence to go ahead and solve the mysteries on a bigger scale. Join Linan and her friends as they investigate these cases on an extraterrestrial journey filled with excitement, fear, mystery, and most of all, curiosity.

One minute he'd been Michael Williams, six foot four, short cut brown hair and unassuming brown eyes. The next minute he'd found himself in a vast boundless void of light and space with no point of reference. It was immensely peaceful with a sense of oneness and connectedness with everything . Then he was spat out the other side, confronted by a woman with sea-green eyes and hair the color of softly spun gold that flowed down her back. Horror stills Michael to the core as he realizes that he has travelled not just through space but time as well and this wondrous woman is destined to fight to save his planet from an invasion of aliens from the lower dimensions. Only trouble is she's going to be on the losing side. Kiana's a warrior and her kind don't interfere with free will or destiny." "If I must face what I must face tomorrow though, I have something to ask of you. It may even be the reason you came." God help him, he thought he'd sell his soul if she wanted it. "Ask away. If there is anything I can do it would make me feel a bit less damn helpless right at this moment." Kiana didn't hesitate. If tomorrow was her doom then she wanted her moment with this amazing man. "Mate me." Around midnight her sixth sense woke Sarah. Looking up amongst the stars she saw a strange and wondrous sight. A real UFO was coming into land due south of her position. It was unlike any aircraft she had ever seen. It was only because of her keen sight that she was able to make out its almost circular shape. There were no obvious portals or windows. Its mirror like surface sparkled like a myriad of diamonds. It wasn't in any stealth mode. It hovered over the land for a moment and then seemingly disappeared straight into the earth. Her curiosity got the better of her. She banked her fire, gathered up her spear and her few belongings and headed off in the direction of the UFO.
