Third-Party Trump Card is the story of two Cuban Americans, Rick Torres and Vic Flores, who after rising to the highest levels of political power in the United States, believe they have the trump card to beat the Electoral College to win the American Presidency. As presidential candidates the two amigos consequently form a "survivor" pact in which they promise not to outvote each other in the Republican primaries. To further secure his presidential winning bid, Torres involves former New York mayor and business tycoon Steve Trumberg in a third-party scheme which he believes will guarantee him a surefire win against his Democratic opponent and hot favorite Jackie Sisano. Events take on many unexpected twists and turns, and Torres's third-party trump card plot gets lost in a number of ensuing card reshuffles. This leads to the most inconceivable and dramatic house of cards presidential election ever envisaged.

March 4—A New York Times article on March 1 demonstrates why the neoliberal, globalist politicians and media in Europe reacted with such amazing arrogance and shamelessness from the very beginning to the victory of the democratically elected U.S. President! In early Autumn, Obama had already begun to downgrade the intelligence classification of numerous dubious intelligence reports about the alleged manipulation of the American electoral process by Russia—reports partially based on British sources and for which there is absolutely no proof still today. This allowed him to maximize the number of people who had access to these reports. Analogous information was also given to European allies—and obviously to certain media. That explains the unprecedented arrogance with which these circles—as if by pre-arrangement—were so confident that Trump would not serve his full term in the White House, and that "investigative journalists will now have a lot to do," as the Tagesschau put it. "Will Donald Trump be murdered, overthrown in a coup, or only impeached?" wrote the British Spectator. The same note was struck by the editor of Die Zeit, Josef Joffe, who mused about "murder in the White House" on public broadcaster ARD's Press Club program, and by French radio talk show host Karl Zéro in reviewing different murderous ways by which Trump could soon depart this life, on his daily program broadcast by French public radio, France Info. The London Daily Mail cited an unnamed source—allegedly a friend of the family—saying that Obama wants to personally lead a campaign out of his new mansion in the Kalorama section of Washington, with the goal of removing Trump from the White House, whether through impeachment or resignation. The Democratic Party repeats, mantra-like, its "narrative" that the supposed Russian hack-attacks were responsible for its defeat, instead of facing the fact that the catastrophic policies of Obama and Hillary Clinton toward "the deplorables" were the cause. Intelligence officials left over from Obama's administration almost daily leak new wiretap recordings to the media, which are supposed to prove inappropriate relations between members of the Trump Administration and Russia. The latest example: conversations that Attorney General Jeff Sessions had with Russian Ambassador to the United States Sergey Kislyak as member of the Senate Armed Services Committee-talks that were a part of his job-are being used by the Democrats as further ammunition to demand Sessions' resignation.

Inside the White House

Healing is a birthright to all humanity. Our intricate design was meticulously created to operate in a way, in which our minds and bodies have the ability to heal itself. However, when we began to worry and allow our mind to stress, we create an hostile environment that makes it difficult for the body to achieve wholeness. "Dis-ease" and illness happens when the mind, body and spirit reaches an unbalanced state. To restore ourselves to our natural order, we must begin by believing and operating in a way that healing is possible; through our own power of being optimistic and spreading positive energy to all things we come in contact with. "Even a tree has more hope. If it is cut down, it will sprout again and grow new branches." Job 14:7 NLT

THREE KINGDOMS

Douglas W. Kmiec -- at one time head of the Office of Legal Counsel to President Reagan -- is credited with helping win a sizeable Catholic majority in key electoral states for Barack Obama in 2008. Until recently, he served as U.S. Ambassador winning the confidence of his embassy and the profound admiration and high praise of his host country, the Republic of Malta. Nevertheless, Ambassador Kmiec offered to resign rather than allow his efforts to be undermined by the State Department bureaucracy contrary to his publicly announced White House portfolio to advance inter-faith diplomacy and understanding. The Department rushed to accept as the White House stayed bafflingly silent. Was the Department miffed at Kmiec's UN presentation describing Obama as a genuine honest broker in Arab-Israeli relations? Why did the White House not "have the back" of its scholarly ally? Today, when the culture war is defining the Republican ticket and the President is accused of starting a "war on religion" at home while abroad he is confronted by an understandably anxious Israel fearful that the President's reliance on diplomacy and sanctions will not corral Iran, a book written with grace, objectivity and charity toward one's opponents is a surprisingly welcome tonic from all the noise and deserves notice. In a genre that is at once biography, political commentary, and religious reflection, the book ties these seemingly disparate features of our lives together with success. The Romney and Santorum teams would like nothing better if they could win back the conservative, pro-life Catholic who served in the top ranks of the Reagan administration, but today Doug Kmiec remains Obama's Faith-filled Ambassador and fully expects the President to win a second term. Find out why. Here is the Ambassador's poignant recounting of the cost paid for his Obama support as well as the tragic deaths that now shape the rest of his time on earth. Together with actor Martin Sheen's spot-on foreword, the account will bring tears, laughter, even outrage, but by virtue of Kmiec's recounting of a Theology of Kindness, the book by sheer force of friendships won and lost has the potential to change your life for the better and elevate all of our political discourse. Read the book that Sojourner's Jim Wallis, NCR's Michael Sean Winters, and other open-minded faith and political leaders have described as "honest," "powerful." and "deeply compelling," from the author LATimes Tim Rutten found to be a "muzzled diplomat" seeking only to bring our politics into touch with civility, common ground, and "our better angels."
